Library fee increase under consideration

by Norm Lewis

An increase in Textbook Library fees of almost $10 per year is being considered by Eastern administrators and student leaders.

Vice President for Student Affairs Glenn Williams, in his report on the library finances completed last week, said the Textbook Library needs an increase of $3 per semester for its operations.

In addition, Williams concluded, a new library will have to be built at an estimated cost to students of between $2.25 and $3.65 per year.

The new building is necessary because "The current structure of the Textbook Library has been ruled inadequate to support the weight of the operation with safety," Williams said in his report.

Although his report does not specify a site for the new library, the now defunct Council on University Planning approved several years ago a new building adjacent to the Buzzard Education Building.

President Daniel E. Marvin, who said Friday he will consult with student leaders before proposing an increase to the Board of Governors, said Friday he was satisfied with the report.

"As far as I'm concerned the recommendations (from Williams) are fair and reasonable and assures the continuation" of the textbook rental system, Marvin said.

He said he sent a copy of Williams' report to student government leaders asking for their input.

In addition, Marvin said he would consult with the Council on Academic Affairs for its opinion on "minor changes" in the wording of the textbook rental policy.

Instead of allowing instructors to replace books after three years of five semesters of use, Williams has recommended replacement after "three calendar years of four semesters of scheduled use," whichever is longer.

If the increased Textbook Library fee is approved, it would be the second increase in two years. Fees were raised by $3 in the fall of 1977 to $17.

At that time, however, plans for a new Textbook Library were scrapped because of a lack of funds.

The increase in fees did not last long. In May, Marvin declared a moratorium on the purchase of new textbooks because the library had depleted its funds. The moratorium is still in effect.

Women's status makes gains at Eastern

by Dyna Cole

A report on women in Eastern's administration was recently given to a higher education subcommittee hearing on the status of women in higher education.

The higher education subcommittee of the Illinois Commission on the status of Women held hearings Nov. 10 in Chicago, and Tuesday in Springfield, to determine what progress and problems educational institutions have encountered trying to expand equal opportunities for women.

Margaret Soderberg, assistant to Eastern President Daniel E. Marvin, reported to the subcommittee that although Eastern has made significant gains in this area, two major problem areas exist.

Soderberg said the problem areas are a decrease in the number of positions being created and the lack of women in middle and upper levels of administration.

"Because enrollments have begun to level off from the 60's, there are fewer positions being created now than there were ten years ago," she said.

"At present, there are eight deans and only two of them are women. To the best of my knowledge, there are only two women department chairmen, Dr. Mary Ruth Swope of the home economics department and Dr. Frances Pollard of the library science department," she said.

But overall, Soderberg said women on Eastern's campus have been making definite progress, and that the changes have been "real and significant."

Soderberg said the number of women in administration positions at Eastern has had a small increase and women are well represented in promotions to assistantships, she added.

She cited the appointment of Shirley Moore of the psychology department as the first Eastern dean of academic development "as a very important step."

Restaurant to fight liquor license denial

by K.J. Pringle

The owner of Caesar's Pizza said Friday he has "no choice but to fight" the recent decision of the Illinois Liquor Control Board to uphold Mayor Bob Hickman's denial of a liquor license for his restaurant.

"I know I'm losing a substantial amount of business because of this thing," Jerry Myerscough, owner of the restaurant, said. "In dollars, I'd say the amount would be from $2,000 to $3,000 a week in lost revenue."

Myerscough said that he applied for a license for his restaurant at Fourth and Lincoln on Oct. 4, 1977.

"I had been told that no licenses were available, yet a new restaurant yet to be built and E.L. Krackers both received liquor licenses even though my application was in sooner than either of those two."

Myerscough then, appealed Hick-man's decision to the Illinois Liquor Control Board.

Hickman, however, said Myerscough specified on his liquor license application that he would be serving only beer and wine, which under city license classifications is a Class C license. Hickman said that at that time there were no Class C licenses available and there still are no Class C, D or E liquor licenses available.

Myerscough said he and his attorney are "waiting on the briefs from the liquor board before we make a decision on whether or not we'll fight the decision in Circuit Court," Myerscough said.

He added that he thought he would have the briefs soon.

Myerscough said he also has an application in for either a Class D or Class E liquor license. "There is one of each available, but I won't get it because Hickman has made up his mind not to give one to me," Myerscough said.

Hickman countered Myerscough's accusations Sunday by saying, "I won't deny that. His calling me a liar and being biased does hurt his chances for getting a liquor license. I think anybody in my position would tell you the same thing."

A Class D license originally permitted the sale of all types of liquor, but was recently rewritten so that hard liquor is barred from sale. A Class E license is basically the same except that beer and wine can be served on Sundays.

Myerscough pointed out that not only is he losing money but that the city is also losing out on revenue. "A liquor license alone costs $750 and besides that, the city is losing sales tax revenue, he said.

Troops sent to Guyana

GEORGETOWN, Guyana (AP)—The Guyanese government airlifted troops Sunday into the remote jungle where a California congressman and three newsmen were ambushed and killed as they tried to escort unhappy settlers from the camp of an American religious sect.

One of the settlers also was killed, government officials said. Nine other persons were reported wounded. All the dead and wounded were Americans, according to the U.S. Embassy.

Authorities in this South American nation said at least one suspect had been apprehended.

There were reports that 200 or more of the sect's members had committed mass suicide at the Jonestown settlement in the aftermath of the Saturday ambush of Rep. Leo J. Ryan's group. The government said it could not confirm that such a bizarre bloodbath had taken place.

4 killed in bus bombing

JERUSALEM (AP)—A bomb exploded Sunday on an intercity bus packed with Israelis and tourists in the occupied West Bank, and hospitals reported four persons were killed and 37 wounded in the worst terrorist incident here in five months.

In Beirut, Yasser Arafat's Fatah guerrillas claimed responsibility for the attack, saying in a communique that an "underground squad acting inside occupied Palestine planted a timed, heavy explosive charge in an enemy bus while en route from the Dead Sea area to Jerusalem."

Hospital officials said three of the dead were a young Belgian and two Israelis, and that 12 of the injured were tourists from Canada, Sweden and Britain. No Americans were reported hurt. The identity of the fourth person killed was not immediately known.

Race track damages high

CICERO*III. (AP)—A fire possibly started by arsonists gutted the Hawthorne Race Course grandstands Sunday causing $5 million to $10 million in damage to the nation's fifth oldest horse race track, officials said.

No injuries were reported and the fire was kept from the barn where horses are stabled. The blaze also destroyed the second tier of the concrete and steel clubhouse.

In addition to the structural damage to the 89-year-old wooden grandstands, track co-owner William Collins said $2 million in cash may have been lost in the blaze. He said the money was stored in a safe in the track office, which was engulfed by flames.

Firemen were unable to immediately enter the building to look for the safe because of the flames and collapsing walls.

Women opportunities low

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time, the population growth rate of the world has reversed and is declining, population experts say.

But they say the actual number of people being added to the world is still increasing and that zero growth rate will not be reached until between the years 2020 and 2025.

A U.S. Census Bureau report released Sunday shows the world growth rate was 1.9 percent in 1976 compared to 2 percent a decade earlier. The total population increased from 3.5 billion in mid-1967 to an estimated 4.3 billion in mid-1977, the report says.

Council used poor logic in nixing bike lanes

We were disappointed with the recent Charleston City Council action which thwarted the addition of very much needed bicycle lanes in this city.

We agree that the plan was not perfect in design, but the proposed new lanes would have been a major link in an eventual network of lanes.

The argument raised by a least one commissioner that no new lanes should be added because existing lanes are not used by enough bicyclists is very weak. Under this logic, the city and state should not impose speed laws since most motorists fail to obey the 55MPH limit.

The reverse of this argument is more likely to hold true: the more lanes--and lane coordination--the more bicyclists will be induced to use them. At a time when energy conservation is of the essence, we feel the city should work to encourage bike traffic in the city--not curb it.

Editorials

Although the proposed plan--which would have added about two miles of new lanes and bike-ways on city streets--was killed, city officials ordered further investigation into the situation. Thus, the addition of bike lanes in the city appears to still be on the drawing board.

We, however, still were let down by the council's decision, for it knows--probably better than anyone else--how important timing is in a matter such as this.

If it would have given the green light to the proposed plan, bicyclists in the city would have been assured new lanes by next spring. Now there is no assurance.

The current council has traditionally been very cognizant of matter concerning students and the Eastern community as a whole, and should be commended for doing so.

In this case, however, bikes are going to continue to travel Charleston streets with or without the new lanes. The addition of the new lanes would have made life easier and safer for both motorists and bicyclists as well.

We therefore urge the council to pursue adding the much needed lanes, and we will continue to encourage bicyclists to use them.

Letters to the editor

Editor,

This letter is in reference to a situation that has come to my attention pertaining to a series of articles that appeared in the Eastern News. It deals with the treatment of an individual, his particular situation and the important coverage that the Eastern News seemed to deem this specific story.

The incident deals with a freshman football player and his subsequent involvement in a certain action in a dorm which led to the police stepping in and charges being filed.

This young man made a mistake and was charged with battery. This story was treated by the Eastern News as if it was a federal drug case.

It was unduly given a spectacular Front Page Article with Big Bold headlines. If that wasn't enough, the incident also received several follow-up articles, getting the same Front Page treatment, being sure everyone on campus was kept abreast of the progress of the issue.

I know that this news item received more sensationalism and blow-up than it deserved, especially in light of how many other fights occur in dorms and how they receive coverage in the Eastern News.

But that wasn't the straw that broke the camel's back, as far as I'm concerned. That got me upset, but this latest trick that you pulled drove me to write this letter.

It seems that at the recent EIU Homecoming Game, that another EIU athlete, tossed a bottle and caused bodily harm to a young woman.

But, it was strange to me how this story received fifth page importance along side of an ad for Meis' Clothing, a political ad, and local movie ads.

There were even two (2) other articles on the same page; one of which drew a bigger story and bolder headlines.

I think that this is where these types of stories belong. The EIU athlete who did this incident received the type of coverage that all EIU athletes should get.

My major message in this letter is to point out what type of publication that you are printing. Let's see how you stack up to other local publications in the area, as far as choice of importance.

I didn't see the football player's story on the Times-Courier front page or the Journal-Gazette. This should tell you about the type of "class" paper you are running.

I also want to point out that the implication of one of the Eastern football coaches was all heresay and that the District Attorney has dropped all investigation and turned it over to the Campus Police.

Of which nothing will come of it, because none of the things that were implied in the paper were true. This should show how valid and reliable your reporting and strong writing is, also.

My minor message in writing this letter is to assure you that after four years of reading the Eastern Snooze, that you have confirmed my belief that your publication rates right along side of watching re-runs of "Face the Nation" on Sunday mornings and also the Hershey Squirts in my priority list of things I wish to encounter through my life.

Lastly, I do have the guts to say what I feel. Let us see if you have the guts to print it.

I hope you notice (and all the others who don't have the guts to sign what they write) that I do sign my name.

Rod Sink

Male help

Editor:

I have been reading about these "grab attacks" that have been occurring recently.

I fully agree that these attacks are probably not being fully reported.

These "attacks" are not confined toward females. Last night, I myself was grabbed near a friend's apartment, but was able to get away.

So far all the advice in the paper has been aimed at the protection of females.

What should we males do? The advice sounds like being a male is a good defense against these incidents, but I believe that no more!

I have also read that we should report these attacks if they happen.

Who should I report this to: the Charleston police (because it happened uptown), Campus Security (because I am a student) or both?

And if I do, will they do anything about it---or can they?

C. Lee Young

Recognition

Editor:

In a two-month study of photographer Craig Stockel, I, along with several hundred black students have felt discriminated against by his photography.

I'm sure if you look at your Eastern

News you only find a black student either on the front page for a criminal act or on the back page for being a super athlete.

It seems as though blacks don't play in leaves, walk in the rain, or just sit around and enjoy the sun, as cover photos show how the majority spend their leisure time.

My study only involves Craig Stockel, but there are others just as guilty as he is and don't need to be evaluated in a long and intense study.

In the early years of our country blacks couldn't vote, hold public offices, and weren't considered as people.

This was a very visible action shown by our society.

Today, we can vote, hold public offices, and are recognized as people.

But, is this being a person when you are ignored by your peers? Ignored to the point where we are not noticed as people trying to achieve?

Ignored to the point where it makes you think we don't exist, but we do exist and we want to be heard and seen for our efforts.

You see, letters may be written in rebuttal of my study.

The Eastern News may analyze my study - take a couple of pictures and write a few articles which you may think we are satisfied with and then fall inevitably back into your same discriminating rut.

These types of letters have been written month after month, year after year.

But it's time that the letters stop and the pictures need to be taken.

Ron Stallin

Editor's note: The photo editor is not responsible for the final selection of pictures which appear each day; that decision is made by the managing editor, who is black, and his assistants.

Holland's 1st leads Eastern grapplers

by Keith Palmgren

St. Louis—The Eastern wrestlers took on some of the best teams in the nation this weekend at the St. Louis Open.

No team scores were compiled at the event, but individual scores and statistics were kept.

At the 158 pound clasification, Bob Holland placed first in the competition to lead the Panthers. In Holland's final match which he won by the score of 9-0, he beat a tough opponent from Missouri, and was also awarded the "Most Outstanding Wrestler" in the tournament.

Also at 158 for Eastern Mark Granowski took fourth, but got pinned in his final match by a Missouri foe. Mike Polz also wrestled at 158 but did not place.

Randy Blackman wrestled at 118 for the Panthers and took second. In the final match he lost 14-8 to a Southern

Cagers to open in intrasquad tilt

Fans will have their first chance to see the 1978-79 edition of the Eastern basketball team Monday, as the Panthers will hold an intrasquad game after the women's contest with Chicago State at Lantz Gym.

The game is being played for the benefit of needy Charleston area families, as the admission price will be either $1 or a can of food. Receipts will be turned over to Irma Justice, Chairman of the Charleston Civic Association, which administers the distribution of food baskets to needy Charleston area families just prior to Christmas.

The Panthers return an excellent nucleus of talent, plus an excellent recruiting class look for yet another successful season under head coach Don Eddy.

The Panther's roster of 20 players will be divided up into Blue and White unit, and Eddy has stated that no matter how he tries to divide the two teams in the scrimmages played so far the games are evenly played.

"No matter how I try to get my best unit together, another unit comes in and beats them," Eddy said. "I don't think anyone will see a runaway game Monday night."

Illinois University-Edwardsville grappler.

At 134 pounds, the weight class head coach Ron Clinton believes is the toughest on the team to make, Bob McGuinn took second in the tourney winning four matched, but being decisioned 14-13 in the final. Gil Duran also wrestled at 134 but lost his first match of the meet.

Senior Ralph McCausland also took second, winning four matches, and losing his final match 2-1 at 142 pounds.

Geno Savegnago took second for Eastern at 190 pounds, while Rich Giese went into the semi-finals of the 190 pound class winning three matches before losing.

Heavyweight Dave Klemm won his first three matches, then lost his final match 5-4 to a tough Illinois State heavyweight. Klemm finished in second place.

At 150 pounds, Jim McGinley took third, losing in the semi's 9-4.

Bob Stout finished third at 167 pounds for the Panthers.

In the 177 pound class, Jack Nix made it to the semifinals, winning his first three matches, but did not place.

At 126 pounds, no Eastern wrestler placed.

Graduate assistant Rudy Ruettinger said, "We need to work a lot on conditioning, by the third period, most of the guys were really tired. We were also very inconsistent in most of our matches, but it was good for us to compete in a tournament."

Eastern's next match is the Oklahoma Open, at Norman Okla. next weekend.

Eastern is in! Panthers meet Cal-Davis next

By virtue of their 40-12 win over Western Illinois Saturday, the Eastern Panthers were officially named as one of the eight teams to participate in the NCAA Division II playoffs.

The Panthers will travel to Davis, Calif. next Saturday to take on the nation's 4th ranked team, the Cal-Davis Mustangs.

Other pairings across the nation are Delaware hosting Jacksonville State out of the East, Youngstown State hosts Nebraska-Omaha out of the Midwest, and the nation's top rated team, Winston-Salem (N.C.) College is at home to take on No. 8 ranked Cal Poly/SLO.

Delaware defeated Division I Colgate to clinch a spot in the playoffs, while Jacksonville State edged North Alabama to earn a place. In Saturday's biggest game, Cal Poly/SLO toppled Division I-AA Boise State 7-3 to gain the honor of meeting Winston-Salem.

Cal-Davis, 8-2 on the season, will pose a strong test to the Panthers of head coach Darrell Mudra.

"Cal-Davis has an exceptional team," Mudra said. "They have beaten some Division I teams this season."

The Panthers came from 1-10 a year ago to make the playoffs, and have won five games in a row after losing to Youngstown at mid-season.

"This is a real thrill because we have a young team that has jelled at the right time," Mudra said.

Panthers romp over WIU in finale

by Carl Gerdovich

MACOMB-Eastern's Cinderella Panthers experienced the joy of reality Saturday afternoon defeating Mid-Continent Conference foe Western Illinois University, 40-12, in the season finale at Hanson Field.

The Panther win clinched an NCAA Division II bid for the first time ever in Eastern history.

"It sure is great, isn't it?" head coach Darrell Mudra asked with a big smile. "This is the kind of thing you strive for from the start."

"I was really pleased with our play today. I'm just tickled to death about it all," Mudra added.

Eastern's 9-2 record is the most victories since the team began playing football back in 1899. The Panther win is also the first Eastern victory over Western Illinois since 1968.

Although entering the contest at 3-5-1, the Leathernecks obviously were a better team than their record indicated, especially after the scare they gave Youngstown State a week ago.

"Western Illinois presented some real concern for us. They've just had some bad breaks," Mudra said. "A couple of errors really hurt them."

Mistakes, both offensively and defensively, hurt the Leathernecks all afternoon.

Eastern opened the game marching to their own 47 yard line before punter

Cris Larsen booted an end-over-end kick to Western. Al Bussone had trouble receiving the kick in the brisk wind and fumbled with the Panther's Lonnie Denton recovering.

From the Western 31, two running plays by Poke Cobb followed by a key first down pass to tight end Rob Mahalic set up Eastern's first score.

Quarterback Steve Turk lofted a perfect pass over the shoulder of James Warring in the corner of the end zone for a 7-0 lead.

Turk had another record-breaking day against Western Illinois completing 14 of 23 passes for 156 yards, setting a season record of 160 completions.

At 11:51 of the second quarter, Turk again connected with Warring from nine yards out after a defensive interference call against WIU maintained the drive.

Warring caught eight passes for 97 yards, setting another record for most yards on pass receptions. He has now caught 59 passes for 980 yards.

Randy Melvin's fumble recovery on the Western five yard line set up Turk's third TD pass to fullback Jeff Forster from one yard out.

Cobb's 34 yard jaunt and the individual effort of tailback Barney Spates on a 14-yard run capped the Panther scoring late in the game.

Eastern tight end Rob Mahalic (81) latches on to Steve Turk's pass in the Panthers 40-12 win over Western Illinois Saturday. The gain came on a fourth down play, and led to Eastern's first touchdown. (News photo by Craig Stockel)

Booters top UMSL in regional

by Kathy Klisares

What's the price of a ticket to Miami, Fla.? A single goal was what Eastern's booters paid Saturday in exchange for a 1-0 shutout over University of Missouri-St. Louis (UMSL) and a trip to Miami for national competition.

The regional championship game turned out to be a threefold victory as Eastern won the regional title, broke the shutout record with 11 for the season and will now advance to the final games Dec. 1, 2 as the Midwest champ.

Midfielder John Jozsa scored on a cross from David Hancock in the 13th minute of the second half with an excellent shot that struck the crossbar and dropped into the net.

Taking 10 shots on goal for the game, the Panthers had no trouble getting the shots off, but couldn't seem to place them accurately. Co-captain George Gorleku nearly scored a second goal on a penalty kick, but UMSL's B. Barczewsky (#22) stopped the shot with an intentional handball and the ball was again awarded to Eastern.

Forward Miguel Blair also had a near miss in the first half as he attempted to beat the goalie at the net, but the shot was stopped with an excellent save by the UMSL goalie.

With the Panthers dominating the ball control, UMSL took only three shots on goal for the game, one of which came a little too close for Eastern's comfort.

With the Panthers dominating the ball control, UMSL took only three shots on goal for the game, one of which came a little too close for Eastern's comfort. As the Riverman ball shot down field and straight for the net, so did Panther defender Terry Rolheiser who seemed to come out of nowhere to boot the ball out of bounds and destroy UMSL's hopes of a victory.

"That one save made a big difference in the game," assistant coach Chris Tegousis said. "UMSL was already scared of us and from that point on they couldn't do anything," he added.

"We also had the home field advantage and the crowd helped out a lot," he added.

Looking ahead to national competition Tegousis said, "Everyone is very proud and I think we deserve it. There's a lot of real team spirit, not one man's accomplishment, and this is the best reward we can have."
